

UNITED WAY OF RHODE ISLAND

Providence Journal photographer John Freidah, left, his wife Betsy Angeletti, and Anthony Maione, CEO and president of United Way of Rhode Island, were joined by 125 guests at a UWRI exhibit of Freidah's photographs of homelessness and the foreclosure crisis. The United Way Fund to Prevent Homelessness in Rhode Island raised approximately $120,000 during the first quarter of 2009, matched dollar-for-dollar by the nonprofit for nearly $240,000.
